FYI - the "San Jacinto River Waste Pits Quick Facts", page 9, refers to dioxins as "(commonly known as Agent Orange)". This is very wrong. Agent Orange was a defoliant composed of the herbicides 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T. Dioxins were discovered as a contaminant in many containers of Agent Orange, but they do NOT identify Agent Orange.

Bob,

I have forwarded this to our Captain Fred Ruiz in the Houston District for follow up. He will be contacting you to discuss some solutions.

Thanks,

Mr. Skeen,

Please see attached meeting summary memo from the January 30, 2014 community meeting. In the memo I underlined a sentence that relates to a comment made by a Mr. JT Crimes concerning his observation of commercial fishing (crab traps) in the area of concern near Market Street. I talked to Mr. Crimes on 2/3/14 and he stated that he can show us where the traps are located and believes that it is just one commercial operation involved in the crabbing. I just started reading the 2013-14 TPW Commercial Fishing Guide and came across a reference to a "retention ban" for crabs caught in that area. Is a retention ban the same as a ban and hence prohibited? We continue to look for ways to outreach and educate the public about the fish advisories, any assistance that you all could lend would be greatly appreciated.

Thanks,

Bob Allen
